DETAILED ACTION

1. Claim 16 is objected to as being directed to non-statutory subject matter and has been withdrawn from further consideration.
2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.
3. This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.
4. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-13 and 18-22, drawn to an immunomodulator comprising a superantigen.

Claims 14 link(s) inventions II-III. The restriction requirement among the linked inventions is subject to the nonallowance of the linking claim(s) 14. Upon the allowance of the linking claim(s), the restriction requirement as to the linked inventions shall be withdrawn and any claim(s) depending from or otherwise including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) will be entitled to examination in the instant application. Applicant(s) are advised that if any such claim(s) depending from or including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) is/are presented in a continuation or divisional application, the claims of the continuation or divisional application may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Where a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. In re Ziegler, 44 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

Group II, claim 15, drawn to a method of therapeutic or prophylactic treatment of a disorder comprising administering an immunomodulator, wherein the disorder is an infection or pre-neoplastic transformation.

Group III, claim 15, drawn to a method of therapeutic or prophylactic treatment of a disorder comprising administering an immunomodulator, wherein the disorder is autoimmunity or allergy.

Group IV, claim 17, drawn to a method of preparing an immunomodulator.

Group V, claims 23-28, drawn to a nucleic acid encoding a superantigen.

5. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Applicant is further required to elect:

elect a specific immunomodulator comprising a specific mutation or combination of mutations, such as one those listed in claim 4 (if group I or V is elected), elect a specific antigen such as one of those listed in claims 7-9 (if group I is elected), elect a specific disorder such as one of those listed in claim 15 (if groups II or III are elected) and list all Claims readable thereon including those subsequently added. Currently claims 1-2, 7-13, 18, and 23-24 are generic with respect to a mutated immunomodulator, claims 1-6, 10-13, and 18 are generic with respect to an antigen, and claim 14 is generic with respect to a disorder.

6. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

7. The inventions listed as Groups I-V and the species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reason:

Art Unit: 1644

The invention of Group I, the immunomodulator, has no special technical feature that defined the contribution over the prior art Yamaoka et al., 1998 (of record).

Yamaoka et al. teach a streptococcal superantigen lacking a fully functional T-cell receptor binding site (i.e. a "mimic" of superantigen SMEZ-2) coupled to GST (i.e. an "immunomodulatory antigen").

8. Since Applicant's inventions do not contribute a special technical feature when viewed over the prior art they do not have a single general inventive concept and so lack unity of invention.

9. Accordingly, Groups I-V are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept and restriction is proper.

10. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

11. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

12. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Amy E. Juedes, Ph.D. whose telephone number is 571-272-4471. The examiner can normally be reached on 8am - 5pm, Monday through Friday.
